

NATIONAL FOOTBALL MUSEUM

FIRST ELEVEN

Find out more about some of our favourite objects and the stories behind them. Simply scan the QR code to access our exclusive 'First Eleven' series.

Premier League & Women's Super League trophies
Kick off your visit with our very own official replica trophies. Remember to stop for a photo op!

The Laws of the Game
The Magna Carta of football. In 1863, the FA published their first rules of the game, as drafted by the organisation's first secretary, Ebenezer Morley. After some amendments and additions, these rules were eventually adopted around the world.

FA Cup trophy, 1896-1910
After the original was stolen from a Birmingham shop window, this exact replica was commissioned and used until the early twentieth century, when the current trophy design was adopted.

Stanley Matthews medal
The 38-year-old inspired Blackpool to a remarkable comeback against Bolton Wanderers at Wembley in 1953, earning his first FA Cup winners' medal.

Football League trophy This stunning piece of silverware was awarded to the Football League Champions from 1891 until 1992. It's nicknamed 'The Lady' because of the statuette adorning its lid.

Jules Rimet and World Cup 66 ball No visit is complete without a first-hand look at the trophy paraded by England in 1966, and the ball with which Geoff Hurst scored his famous hat-trick.

Marta's Brazil shirt World Cup top scorer Marta first made her mark back in 2003. The Brazilian forward netted three goals in her debut Women's World Cup at the age of just 17!

Lily Parr statue The first statue of a female footballer in the UK, Lily was star striker for Dick, Kerr Ladies. The team regularly drew thousands of spectators in the early 1920's, before the FA banned women's football.

Justin Fashanu England shirt A 20-year-old Fashanu wore this jersey in an England U21 game against Hungary in 1981. He later became Britain's first black £1m player, and the country's first openly gay male professional footballer.

Penalty Shootout Fancy your chances from the spot? Step up and try our nerve wrenching Penalty Shootout! You've got three chances to beat our virtual goalie from twelve yards. £2 per three penalty kicks.

From Moss Side to Marseille A thought-provoking art exhibition jointly curated by artist Michael Browne and football legend Eric Cantona. Opens 14 January 2023.

OUR INTERACTIVE GAMES

Your admission ticket includes unlimited access to six of our interactive games.*

Match Gallery

- Match of the Day Commentary Challenge
- Lift the Trophy

Play Gallery

- On The Ball
- One-Two
- Pass Master
- Shot Stopper

To activate each game, hold this QR code in front of the scanner until the ball is released.

 Penalty Shootout costs an additional £2 per three penalties. Talk to a member of our team for details.*

FEEDBACK

We hope you enjoy your visit. Please leave us feedback on TripAdvisor, Facebook, Instagram or Twitter.

f NationalFootballMuseum @ nationalfootballmuseum
 🐦 FootballMuseum

National Football Museum is a registered charity (no. 1050792)

